

WE'RE HIRING!

Technical Writer - Toronto

Dominion Voting is searching for a Technical Writer to join our team in Toronto! This position will be responsible for creating and writing various types of user documentation, including how-to guides, references, manuals, or instructions, for Dominion Voting Systems' innovative election technology (hardware & software).

Responsibilities

- Define a strategy for Information Gathering and Planning for every document to be written
- Define Content Specification for every document to be written (input file formats, structure, textual and visual content format, repository, etc.)
- Develop/prepare/maintain Documents Content (text, visual elements, etc.)
- Work closely with product management and operational readiness groups to provide client-specific documentation
- Adhere to Revision Numbering and Format of all technical and end-user documents Dominion produces
- Maintain a Document Repository of all documents to be written
- Adhere to, and annually review the Document Configuration Management process, including Change Control and Tracking
- Work independently and collaboratively to gather information and write and/or revise clear, concise, accurate, and easily read user guides and technical documentation packages.
- Adhere to, and annually review the document release process
- Define and monitor Documents accuracy and quality (Testing and Verification) process
- Explain scientific and technical ideas in simple language

Qualifications:

- 3-5 years technical writing experience
- Undergraduate degree in computer science or engineering, or equivalent work experience
- Experience with Adobe FrameMaker
- Knowledge/understanding of collaborative workspaces, such as Confluence
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Strong time management skills
- Ability to manage multiple projects
- Occasional travel both domestically and internationally may be required to provide election days support to our customers

Click here to apply!

Learn more about us at www.dominionvoting.com
Dominion Voting is an Equal Opportunity Employer

